GREENVILLE

F. L. Yeomans Marries Miss Edith Lewis of South Windham—Visitors of the Week—Shutucket Mill Starts on Full Time Monday.

Fred L. Yeomans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Yeomans of Central avenue, and Edith Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of Babcock Hill, were quietly married Thursday, July 1, at the home of Rev. Harry Grimes in Windham. Relatives from Greenville were present, a reception taking place at the home of the bride Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will make their home in South Windham for the present. Mr. Palmer is well known in Greenville, and is employed in Windham as an electrician. His bride is a young lady of many charming qualities and the friends of both wish them happiness.

Shutucket Mill on Full Time. A notice was posted at the Shutucket mill Thursday morning, signed by the new superintendent, William G. Henderson, who took charge this week, that the mill would open on full time next Monday. The mill has been running on short time and the notice is pleasing to the employees of the plant and indirectly to many others, as it indicates that Mr. Henderson, who was formerly in charge of the mill, the business of the mill will prosper.

Personal Mention. James Kilcollum of Newark, N. J., is visiting his cousin, Joseph Kilcollum of White street.

LOCAL COMPANIES READY FOR CAMP

Leave Next Thursday for Fort Mansfield for Ten Days
Tour of Duty—Will Go by Steamer Block Island.

On Thursday evening there was a regular drill and meeting of the Third company, C. A. C., at the armory, the Fifth company having held its meeting on Wednesday evening. Orders were read regarding camp and from now on the members will be getting ready for the ten days' tour of duty which starts next Thursday, July 15.

On Wednesday, the 14th, quartermaster sergeants of the local companies will leave in the morning by lighter, taking the baggage to Narragansett Point, and then by steamer to Block Island, a march of about the same distance as on Plum Island to get to Fort Mansfield.

Tonight, on the boat train will go the members of the squad of 35 from this section selected to attend the summer camp. The squad will be picked the state rifle team to participate in the national shoot. From this squad of the state there are: Captain Hagberg, Lieutenant Coleman and Sergeant Denison of the Third company, Norwich; Sergeant Chadwick, New London; Captain Woodward and Sergeant Young, Danielson; and Captain Morgan, Pocomoke Bridge.

The shoot opens Saturday morning at 8:30. The state team will number twelve, although three substitutes are chosen as well as officers of the team. All the indoor range finding apparatus for the local armory has been received this week by Captain Hagberg with the local detail on the finding and detection boards, wind indicator and plotting boards. The apparatus will be for the use of both companies.

MORE ABOUT THE NORWICH CELEBRATION.

What Some of the State Papers Think About It.

Throughout the state attention has been attracted this week by the Norwich celebration and brought forth editorial comment as follows:

Providence Evening Edition.
The 25th anniversary edition of the Norwich Bulletin is one of the best of the many special editions of Connecticut newspapers and cities of this state from time to time. Column after column of its twenty-four pages is replete with information and illustrations appropriate to the occasion.

Norwich's Successful Celebration.
The celebration at Norwich is a conspicuous example of the benefit derived by a community in the way of advertising itself through the medium of celebration. Norwich appears in conspicuous headlines in nearly every paper in the country these days, and yesterday's New York papers featured the celebration over their with big headlines, and with news and pictures.

Of course the president was there, but it was the enterprise of Norwich citizens that got him there, and no one can measure the extent of free advertising that the city will gain thereby. This view of the celebration, its objects and its consequences, is merely one side of the question. But it is a side which every citizen of every city of importance recognizes it when considering the results of a celebration.

The thought of Norwich entertaining some 50,000 persons all at one time is an indication of what a city of this size can do.

The Norwich Celebration.
Norwich certainly did herself proud in the splendid manner in which her anniversary celebration was carried out this week. To do this on such a large scale requires no small amount of executive ability, and the admirability in which every detail was carried out is very much to the credit of Norwich and also to the good judgment and business ability of her citizens.

Hundreds of people from this section of Windham county were present and all whom we have seen are loud in their praise of the beautiful Rose of New England and of the hospitable manner in which all were entertained.

President Taft made an admirable address and in it he paid a warm tribute to Norwich and became truly eloquent as he dwelt upon her brilliant history. To recall the efforts of those who have wrought before us, to emphasize facts in local history which have helped to give character and stability to a town, is well for any community, and hence such an anniversary as our neighboring city has just observed is a thing to be proud of and an enviable influence upon all the participants.—Mooseus Journal.

NORWICH GETTING BACK TO NORMAL CONDITION
Decorators Have Removed Practically All the Bunting and Flags, while the Loan Exhibit Has Closed.

Norwich is again assuming its normal condition after the celebration, although there are yet many visitors here. The decorators have made quick work of removing the bunting and flags and there are but few which have been left up. The large electric sign on the Wauregan avenue will be a permanent thing, while the sign at the Adelphi club has also been left.

The loan exhibit closed on Thursday and today and Saturday will see the owners of the articles taking them away. It is estimated that over 3,000 people visited the exhibit and enjoyed looking over the big collection.

Among the visitors from out of town, State Librarian Goddard and the historical society librarian both saw many articles that they looked at with correct eyes, wishing to add them to their collections in which they were interested.

Among the articles received too late for cataloguing was the loan from Mr. Baker of Saybrook of the document showing the original grant of land in the Saybrook colony to Rev. James Fitch—June 21st, An. Dom. 1655. Mr. Baker now lives on the land indicated in this original grant.

The grand stand at the Chelsea parade and the stand on Broadway opposite Crescent street, were both partially taken down on Thursday.

There was a big demand for the invitations which were issued and for a week before the celebration it was difficult to get one. Those placed on sale were quickly sold and as only about one per cent of those sent out were returned there were but few to dispose of at all, as many of these were mailed to addresses which came in late.

LAST SERVICE IN UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.
Special Service Sunday Morning, in Which Several Will Participate.

At the Universalist church Sunday, July 11, the last service in the present church edifice will be held at 10:30 a. m. The pastor, Rev. Joseph F. Cobb, will preach on the text "What Mean These Stones?" A. Tracy Story will speak of the Society, C. B. Woodworth will speak of the church, and Frederick S. Young will speak of the Sunday School.

There will be baptism and reception of members into the church and celebration of Holy Communion. At 12 o'clock in Sunday school Rev. Joseph F. Cobb will deliver an historical address on "The Sunday School and Kindergarten."

SURPRISE PARTY

Given Otto Zahn by Young People's Society of German Lutheran Church.

In recognition of his recent efficient services as chairman of the amusement committee at the last lawn party the Young People's society of the German Lutheran church gave Otto Zahn a surprise party Thursday evening at the regular business meeting with greetings of "Glueck Auf" and cheers. Mr. Zahn rallied from his surprise in a moment and sent out references to add to what was already being provided, ice cream, cake and fruit being served.

He also made a speech and one was read for and made by Miss Annie Geer, whose birthday it was discovered to be and who was included in the celebration. Miss Clara Zahn and John Markowski served.

Musical numbers were enjoyed, including piano solos by Miss Tony Hamman, solo by Otto Zahn, songs by Arthur Grodzka, John and Charles Kern, an amusing violin solo by William Krauss, and sleight of hand by William Boia.

Ticklers Being Poisonous.
As a result of participating in the fun on the streets with the ticklers during the celebration, a number of the young women of the city have been troubled with a rash breaking out around their chins and throats in the last day or two. There seems to have been some poison in the ticklers, which, combined with the irritation of the tickling, has caused a breaking out on the faces of victims.

EAST SIDE ITEMS.
General Doings of Interest in This District.

William Smith of Tanager avenue is spending several days in Hartford, visiting friends.

Mrs. Jacob Geib has returned to New York, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stabenow of Fenobock street.
